Are there Those Who Take Care of Their Own?
There is one who became a friend when I showed him what I believedit was to his interest to know prior to publication.
Today he told me that "On the sixth the Church Committee is going to unload."
There has been no indication of this of which I know.
It is two weeks off.
His connections in his working life are not the kind that would ordinarily be expected to come up with this intelligence.
So, we'll see.
